THE TIMES.

A. H. CLEMENT EDITOR

WEDNESDAY, JULY 11, 1906.

It is not impertinent to suggest to the authorities of the Jamestown Exposition to postpone the opening of the gates for just one year. They are not going to be ready for 1907 and had as well say so and be done with it, and postponement is no new thing in connection with such functions. To begin in disorder would be disgraceful and the thing can easily be avoided. This is written in no critical spirit, but as a loyal Virginian and true friend of the Exposition. The opening day should be one of the best days.

"Two times and out" may hurt Mr. Bryan's fight but the thing that will do him most harm arises out of the fact that some light-headed Democrats have persuaded themselves that it is just decent to flock with the gold bugs. The people of this country are opposed to the plutocrat and the man who is not with the people is against them.

There was a frigitful railroad accident on an English road recently and a large majority of the killed and wounded are American citizens in search of pleasure. Strange that so many of our people go abroad to spend their money when it could be so much more pleasantly and profitably spent at home.

Harry Thaw's friends are doing a good deal of talking about the "unwritten law," but unfortunately for him he will not be tried under that kind.—Washington Post.

But he ought to be. He is as much entitled to freedom as the man who killed a mad dog, or stayed the ravages of an epidemic.

Why send to New York to get an auditing Committee to examine into the affairs of a Richmond bank or any other Richmond business? We will not believe that Richmond has'nt competent auditors and surety they are as honest as any that can be found in "Greater New York."

Mr. Bryan is always sensible and never more so than when in a recent London interview he expressed a desire to be left free to write and speak for the next ten years, and further that Hearst, Folk, Bailey and the rest of the boys should be given a chance. Nothing small about that.

Mail carriers are not immune against the local laws of the State, those which the prosecution of the business require they shall go. They cannot commit murder and dodge behind a mail bag, nor larceny, nor any other offence. The General Government can get them no such authority.

The Washington Post says: "The sale of our manufacturers abroad cheaper than the same wares are sold at home cannot be defended on any economic or moral grounds." And the one way to break up the criminal business is to "turn the rascals out."

Senator Bailey is optimistically in favor of Bryan. In his 4th of July speech before a Texas audience, he loudly announced that there isn't money enough in corporation coffers to buy the election against him. This is cheerful outlook at any rate.

We do not think that the brute who commits one revolting crime should be allowed to live, but the trouble about all lynching is that under intense excitement it is so easy to make mistakes. The fool-est is entitled to a fair trial, only let it be speedy.

Mr. Bryan's 4th of July London speech was a sad disappointment to those who heard him as he shackled himself by reading from manuscript but it makes excellent reading as it is pregnant with high thinking and world-wide-view of affairs.

We are fully persuaded that Mr. Bryan will receive the nomination in 1908, and just as well satisfied of his triumphant election, provided the Democrats will "stand together." Will they? Of this we are not so certain.

Count Boni is in hard luck. His wife first turned him off, and now the French Chamber of Deputies has turned him out because his seat was obtained by bribery. More good American money wasted.

The Fourth of July accidents will begin again. Even a Virginia Ex-Congressman "did'nt know it was loaded.

It will be undemocratic and positively disgraceful on the part of the democrats of the 9th district not to have a candidate to oppose the patronage-puffed-up Slemp. We do not forget that a large number of voters of the State have moved into that district during the last decade, and yet there are Virginians enough there to redeem it. Republicanism is'nt suited to Southern soil or Southern sons and the effort to make it grow under such conditions is misdirected.

The farmer can furnish his own mail box for the rural routes. This is just as it should be but he should see to it that it is a good one. The Government will not be responsible if the box leaks. Taking mail from them would be as much a violation of law as to rob a post office.

Wherever we meet with a radical Cleveland adherent we are sure to find a radical anti-Bryan man. Who is right, the man with a Corporal's guard at his back, or the man with a nation of Democrats at his back? And yet it takes the votes of all the Democrats to win.

Mr. Reid twitted Mr. Bryan at that London banquet on his free silver proclivities and boasted of the progress of the nation under the gold standard. Mr. Bryan retorted by saying, "If such progress has been made on one leg what might not have been accomplished with two?"

"Let him who is without sin first cast a stone at her," and yet "high life" in New York presents an unin-viting picture, a revolting spectacle. It would be well if its repeal or its details could be kept out of public print.

Mrs. Shaw Astor will bring her husband back to America, and we indulge the hope that she will convince him it is decent to live here. His forefathers made the money here and this is the place to spend it.

Is'nt it barely possible that the Government's inspection label may be made to cover a multitude of faults?

"Where wealth accumulates and men decay." Rich rascals, millionaire's, trillionaire bandits—and so we go.

Feel Impending Doom.

The aching of impending doom in the minds of many victims of Bright's disease and diabetes has been changed to thankfulness by the benefit derived from taking Foley's Kidney Cure. It will cure incipient Bright's disease and diabetes and even in the worst cases gives comfort and relief. Slight disorders are cured in a few days. "I had diabetes in its worst form," writes Marion Lee of Dunreath, Ind. "I tried eight physicians without relief. Only three bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made me a well man. L. E. The Children's Day service was a perfect success from beginning to end at Bethel church 1st Sunday. The entire church was beautifully decorated in green and white with potted plants sitting around over the church. On entering the entrance room the motto "Welcome" in large letters met the eye. Passing on into the church one could see a large arch extending across the chancel rail covered with green and white with motto on it "Shine for Jesus" in large gilt letters. The chancel rail was covered with colors of same surrounded by potted plants. Over the pulpit was a motto "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel" in green letters, while the back of the pulpit was decorated with wreathes of evergreen and ferns. Promptly at 10 o'clock, with Miss Mabel Chick as organist, the exercises began.

The following is a part of the program:

Recitation, In God's Sight—Lawrance Woodson; Recitation, Help somebody—Ruby Chick; Recitation Growing—Adrian Carson; Recitation, The Little Pleaders—John Carson; Recitation, The Command of Christ—Ray Zimmerman; Recitation, I Would'nt Fret—Ruth Drinkard and Claud Chick; Recitation, Little Missionaries—Lois Moore; Recitation, The Best Gift—Ola Alvis; Recitation, Little Things —Alva Moore; Recitation, In Chrysanthemum Land—Ruth Drinkard; Recitation, A Prayer—Minnie Carson; Recitation, Rainbow banners—Seven girls.

The collection was by no means the least interesting feature of the occasion. Miss Mabel Chick dressed in Japanese costume, came from behind the curtains, followed by Ruth Drinkard, Pharnie Woolfork, Ava Woodson and Claude Chick dressed in like manner, to whom she handed the collection baskets, and as they passed through the congregation she sang a missionary solo. The collection amounted to $13.13.

The children were well trained and reflect a great deal of credit on the ladies who had them in charge. Other churches may have a service as good but none will ever excel it. My advice to other churches is do likewise, that "others may see their good works and glorify their father which is in Heaven."

Mrs. Dr. Rucker, who has been spending the past two weeks with her father, W. E. Moore, of Beckham, returned to her home at Pedlar Mills yesterday.

At high noon in the presence of a few specially invited friends, Miss Iona Scott Jennings of Bristol Tenn. became the bride of Mr. Thomas La Fayette Hilton a prominent merchant and business man of Roan Mt. Tenn. The bride was gowned in white, gloves hat and shoes to match and carried marchieneil roses with maiden-hair fern, a gift of the groom.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Geo. N. Cowan of Bristol pastor of the bride.

Mr and Mrs. Hilton left Bristol on the 2:15 train for their future home at Roan Mt. where a reception was tendered them that night. The bride's going away gown was of gray suiting which suited her style of beauty admirably. Mr. and Mrs. Hilton expect to travel through California this winter but will visit the bride's parents before they go. We wish them much success and happiness.

Glenfall.

The hot days of the first summer month have been followed by much more pleasant ones in July.

The lawn party at Mt. Comfort on the afternoon of July 4th and the stereoptican display on canvass at night, were a decided success. A large crowd was present and ice cream, cake and lemonade were bought freely. Quite a creditable sum was realized and a very delightful occasion was enjoyed. How rejuvenating it is to leave "dull care" at home and mingle with our friends and neighbors for the space of one afternoon. I am sure no one could feel that money was misspent, that attended the pleasant entertainment at Mt. Comfort.

A few of our farmers have not yet stacked their wheat. The quantity and quality of it will soon be known. The oat crop is moderately good and the corn crop, where it has been well worked is very promising.

Miss Cornelia Megginson, of Lynchburg is visiting Mrs. Eddie Anderson.

Masters Tom and Ben Thornhill of Lynchburg are spending their vacation at Mr. Dabney Anderson's.

It is rumored that one of the young men in the neighborhood has rented a stall at the livery stable for the summer, in the Hill City "Coming events cast their shadows before."

Miss Ethel Taylor of Martinsville and Mr. Charley Taylor of western Virginia will visit their home people this week.

Mrs. Gilbert, we are glad to say, has improved in health and we hope will soon be well and strong.

Mr. Creed Hamersley who was quite sick for several weeks, is now convalescent. Some of his neighbors enjoyed the golden rule and worked his crop for him during his illness. Such deeds of kindness will be as "bread cast upon the water."

Spring Mills.

I shall write a few items for your paper if you will allow me the space.

The crops on Falling River are looking fine, the most of the farmers are just through with their tobacco and laying by corn.

We are afraid water melons are going to be scarce.

A great many of our young people attended the lawn party held at Sherwill the 4th.

Messrs. Howard and Travis Marshall are expected home soon. We will be very glad to welcome them to our social circle.

Miss Kate Cheatham of Appomattox is the expected guest of Miss Daisy Martin soon.
